Sussex County 4-H Market Animal Sale

Goal

The Sussex County 4-H Market Animal Sale, a program of The Rutgers Cooperative Extension, 4-H Youth Development Program, aims to provide a county-level market animal project sale experience for 4-H youth and reinforce ethical livestock management practices in 4-H members and their parents.

What is Available?

Beef, Goat, Lamb, Pork

Who Buys At the Livestock Auction?

The 4-H Market Animal Sale is open to anyone interested in supporting 4-H youth raising livestock and who appreciate high-quality beef, lamb, pork, and chevon (goat).

Donations and "resales" are tax-deductible donations. The Sussex County 4-H Market Animal Sale is recognized as tax-exempt under a Group Exemption Number held by Rutgers University and is registered as a charity with the State of New Jersey.

Details

Purchasing

Cast the winning bid at auction and purchase an animal for standard processing. All cuts are individually packaged and frozen. Meat is delivered by the 4-H member.

Beef, Pork, Lamb, and Goat are sold by the pound at their live weight.

Split Purchasing

One or more buyers/businesses may split the purchase cost and divide the meat. Buyers must make their own arrangements for this and must bid as one entity.

Resale

After purchasing an animal, the buyer may submit the animal for "resale". The animal is auctioned again with proceeds from the second sale going to a 4-H scholarship fund.
